

Max Shambaugh

Max Shambaugh took a small family operated plumbing business and grew it in to a $175 million national construction company. Shambaugh & Son today is a uniquely positioned construction and engineering firm. They are a company strongly positioned in the marketplace, not only in their ability to design and build utilizing the latest in technology, but with financial structure that affords them the opportunity to handle the largest projects.

With offices in Detroit, Toledo, Chicago, Indianapolis and Lafayette, Shambaugh & Son has made a commitment to providing all disciplines of construction from plumbing, HVAC, refrigeration, electrical, food processing, wastewater treatment to fire protection.