

Ove Jorgensen

1915 - 2005

Ove Jorgensen is best known as Executive Vice President of Essex Wire and Cable. Ove was one of the principal architects of their comprehensive financial and accounting techniques. And as one of the chief executive decision makers, he was responsible for much of Essex's success and growth during the 50's, 60's and 70's.

Ove helped Essex go public in 1965 under the name of Essex Wire Corp. In 1968, Essex changed its name to Essex International Inc. In 1974, Ove played a key role in the negotiations which led to the merger of Essex with United Aircraft, later to become United Technologies Corporation.